

Question 1

How do security frameworks enable security professionals to help mitigate risk? 1 / 1 point

They are used to create unique physical characteristics to verify a person's identity.

They are used to establish guidelines for building security plans.

They are used to establish laws that reduce a specific security risk.

They are used to refine elements of a core security model known as the CIA triad.

Correct

Security frameworks are used to establish guidelines for building security plans that enable security professionals to help mitigate risk.

Question 2

Competitor organizations are the biggest threat to a company's security. 1 / 1 point

True

False

Correct

People are the biggest threat to a company's security. This is why educating employees about security challenges is essential for minimizing the possibility of a breach.

Question 3

Fill in the blank: Security controls are safeguards designed to reduce _____ security risks. 1 / 1 point

broadscale

public

general

specific

Correct

Security controls are safeguards designed to reduce specific risks.

Question 4

A security analyst works on a project designed to reduce the risk of vishing. They develop a plan to protect their organization from attackers who could exploit biometrics. Which type of security control does this scenario describe? 1 / 1 point

Authentication

Classification

Encryption

Ciphertext

Correct

This describes authentication, which is the process of implementing controls to verify who someone or something is before granting access to specific resources within a system.